Webinar on Evidence

Understanding The Dynamics And Procedural Application

Proceedings in court are governed by rules of procedure which are intricate and labyrinthine in nature. Understanding the nature and application of the provisions under the Evidence Act 1950 and other related statutes has been a fundamental task for many practitioners and oftentimes requires a herculean effort. The topics chosen for dissection relate manifestly to substantive issues that routinely come before the court, and are hence matters of distinct significance to counsel and litigants. This informative webinar vide its designated sessions aspires to engage the solicitors and those keen to learn more about the procedural aspect on what's new and current in the law of evidence.
